'Frontier' Between Jaff And Tel Aviv Is Reported Afire

At Least Six Persons Slain As New Outbreaks Occur In Palestine

TENSION MOUNTS IN PALESTINE AREA

JERUSALEM, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Much of the "frontier" between the Arab and Jewish cities of Jaffa and Tel Aviv was reported in flames today after Jews set fire to a number of Arab shops and houses.

At least six persons were slain and 10 injured as the fresh fighting and arson was touched off. All but one of these dead fell in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv area.

A British infantry battalion took a "buffer" position in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv area, scene of fresh violence accompanying Arab protests against Palestine partition.

Officer Is Slain
As the new violence in the explosive "no man's land" area erupted, highlighting a series of new incidents which brought further bloodshed to the troubled Holy Land, another high-ranking Hagana officer was slain.

Joshua Globerman, 30-year-old sub-commander of the Jewish "defense army," was fatally shot while leading a convoy of Jewish transport along the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway.

The Jewish column ran into an Arab ambush at midday.

Meanwhile, from Cairo came reports that Haj Amin El Hussein, exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, told newsmen that "we shall draw swords from our sheaths and let them do the talking, for words are useless."

Hussein is in the Egyptian city for an Arab league meeting.

Tension Mounting
Jewish sources in Tel Aviv said the flames on the Jaffa-Tel Aviv frontier were set by Jews in the Carmel Suk quarter inhabited by Arabs.

These quarters said that agents of Hagana, arm of the Jewish agency, had been called to duty in an effort to halt further arson attempts.

The fires were set in the wake of a shooting affray in the border area which took the lives of at least five persons and wounded 10 others.

The steadily mounting tension in Palestine was heightened by the meeting in Cairo today of the premier of seven Arab league states to discuss a possible Moslem "Holy War" against the United Nations decision to partition the Holy Land.

Reports were further increased with reports from Cairo that the exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, Haj El Hussein, has arrived in the Egyptian capital to attend the Arab league meeting.

U.S. Policy Makers Seek China Aid Plan

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—United States policy makers are reported today to be canvassing all possible steps which can be taken to bolster the Chinese Nationalist government in fighting the threat of communism in the Far East.

Responding to an apparent demand in Congress for a Chinese aid program, the administration plans to give whatever military aid it can to Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek's armies fighting the advancing Communist forces in the north.

Originally, secretary of state Marshall had been reluctant to introduce a Chinese aid program simultaneously with his European plan.

Expand Scope Of City Payroll Tax Proposals

Meeting today in City hall, council authorized advertisement of a resolution, which gives notice of council's intention to pass an ordinance giving the city authority to levy, assess and collect certain taxes on persons, transactions, occupations, privileges, subjects and personal property within the city.

In brief, the ordinance when submitted, will levy a tax of 34 of one percent on the following:

Now Included

On the net profits and income earned by any person in any business, profession, trade or other activity, conducted or carried on in the city, by any person, who is not a resident of the city.

The three-fourths of one percent, expressed in dollars, amounts to 75 cents on every $100 of such valuation.

The proposed ordinance is patterned after one now in effect in Philadelphia.

A resolution which was being advertised was ordered abandoned because of the change in proposed tax plans. It provided for taxing of only persons employed in the city.

Swift Action On Americas Defense Treaty Promised

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Senate President Vandenberg (R) Mich., promised swift bi-partisan ratification today of the historic inter-American defense treaty drafted at Rio last summer.

Vandenberg will call up the treaty at noon as chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee. He forecast its unanimous ratification by nightfall, asserting:

"I know of absolutely no objection to the treaty. I think its values are so evident that the Senate is calculated to be as unanimous as was the conference."

Vandenberg was a delegate to the inter-American conference at Rio and was credited with a large part in the success of the broad agreement reached by the 21 American republics.

Molotov Must Compromise To Save Conference

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Authoritative sources disclosed today that the three western ministers have agreed upon joint strategy for quickly closing the Big Four London conference if Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov refuses to change his uncompromising stand on vital issues.

Some delegates are even predicting that the foundering conference might end in failure tonight.

Agreement on the western strategy was reached, the authoritative sources said, during a meeting last night. At that time, U. S. Secretary of State Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Bevin, and French Foreign Minister Bidault decided that the best issue upon which the conference could end would be, if possible, that of reparations.

The fact that the three western ministers met privately, risking an accusation by Molotov of a "united front" against Russia, was considered indicative of the hopelessness of the situation.

They gave particular attention to a method of bringing the conference to an end if Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov maintains his uncompromising stand on issues regarding the future of Germany and Austria.

Molotov Must Compromise
It is felt that only a new approach by Molotov which might make some kind of compromise possible can save the situation now.

Leaders of western delegations viewed such a development as so unlikely that they are concentrating their attention on the most feasible method of ending the party.

House Nearing Vote On Stopgap Aid Program

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—With riot and bloodshed in Europe serving as a background, the house meets today to vote on President Truman's "Stop Communism" aid program for France, Italy and Austria.

Before the day is over, the house is expected either to pass the necessary legislation or indicate by its vote on amendments how far it is willing to go in meeting the administration's request for 597 million dollars.

The president hopes that with this stable Democratic regime can be maintained in the three western European nations, now beset by Communist strikes, until April 1, when the long-range Marshall reconstruction plan may go into effect.

Indicate U.N. 'Go Slow' Policy On Palestine

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The United Nations indicated today that present plans tentatively call for a "go slow" policy on Palestine and the convoking of the five-nation commission probably not before early January.

The major reason which led to this decision, taken by U. N. officials in consultation with Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan, is the magnitude of the task being faced by the international organization in taking over the Holy Land and the urgent desire to weigh every step before discussions as a body even begin.

It is estimated, also, that by January the heated passions erupted currently into violence and bloodshed in the Holy Land between Jews and Arabs will have cooled down and a more normal situation can be anticipated.

To Voice Grievances
Syrian Delegate Faris El Khouri has declared he will voice the grievances of the Arab states against the U. N. partition scheme in the security council tomorrow afternoon.

The general tendency among the other ten delegates, however, is to forego further debate on the Holy Land issue at present and merely "take note" of the general assembly's decision.

There is little likelihood that El Khouri single-handedly can (Continued on Page Two)

MANY TRIBUTES DURING DINNER

To Dr. John P. Prioletti, local physician and surgeon, on Sunday evening, a testimonial dinner was accorded in his honor, for his outstanding achievement during 23 years of service in the medical profession.

It has always been said that one can judge a man by the number of friends he has. Dr. John P. Prioletti has many friends. And the high esteem in which he is held was manifested last evening, when 700 persons gathered at the Cathedral to pay tribute to a fine surgeon and doctor, a true citizen and indeed a kind and sympathetic friend.

Presiding as general chairman and extending a welcome was Paul Failla, program chairman of the Wolves club and incidentally hosts of last evening's affair. He graciously welcomed the assembly, and the program opened with America, and invocation by Rev. Fr. Albert M. Intuso, assistant pastor of St. Vitus Church.

Charge Woman With Slaying Of Husband

YORK, Pa., Dec. 8.—(INS)—York County District Attorney Harold B. Rudisill reported Mrs. Marian Hayneman, 28, of Andersonstown would be charged with murder today in the fatal shooting of her husband following an argument.

Mrs. Hayneman, mother of two, told police she shot her husband, William, 37, in self defense last Wednesday after he struck her several times on the head and arms with a flashlight.

Amnesia Victim
The woman was arrested Saturday in Harrisburg where she was hospitalized as an amnesia victim. Police said she had driven the family automobile to Harrisburg and walked into a doctors office in a dazed condition, apparently unable to answer questions.

State police made the arrest after they discovered Hayneman dead of a 22 caliber bullet wound at his home.

Rome Police And Troops Watching For Possible Coup

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Dec. 8.—(INS)—All available police in the Rome area were mobilized and Italian troops alerted in their barracks today amid rumors that Communist forces might try to stage a coup against Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government.

The rumors stemmed from the continued presence in the capital of nearly 70,000 partisans, mostly Communists.

The partisans gathered in Rome yesterday, coming from widely separated parts of Italy and staging a massive demonstration in the capital.

Call 10 Minute Halt
The Chamber of Labor in Rome called for a 10-minute halt at 4 p. m. of transportation and public entertainment in the Italian capital during the funeral of its members killed in rioting at Primavera.

Unionists alleged that the victim, Giuseppe Tomas, was killed by a police bullet.

Ministry of interior officials declared meanwhile that an investigation established beyond doubt that the death of Tomas was not caused by a police bullet.

Yesterday Italian workers made a show of strength in Rome when an estimated 60,000 marched through the streets to the tomb of the unknown soldier.

(BULLETIN)
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Jersey Joe Walcott's appeal to the boxing commission for reversal of the decision favoring heavyweight champion Joe Louis in last Friday night's title bout was turned down today.

This action by the commission in support of its ring officials who voted by a one to five margin of the champion after the 15-round battle was expected.

The commission, with Chairman Eddie Egan as spokesman, said "assume" Louis will give Walcott a return match and warmly praised the disappointed challenger for his "splendid performance."

Remington-Rand Severs Relations With CIO Group
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Remington-Rand, Inc. which has seven plants in New York and Michigan, announced today it is breaking off all relations with the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

The company said its action was the result of a ruling by the National Labor Relations Board, informing the company the U. E. "is ineligible for certification as a bargaining representative of your employees" because its officers have refused to file non-Communist affidavits as required by the Taft-Hartley law.

U. S. representatives said today they would redouble their efforts to obtain repeal of the law and "at the same time our membership will protect their contract gains and working conditions," which was interpreted as veiled strike threat.

force an airing of the Palestine case at the present time in the council.

The prospect of a gathering of the Palestine commission before the end of the year at Lake Success faded more than ever when the only appointed member of the group—Karel Lisicky of Czechoslovakia—disclosed that he would sail for home on Dec. 11 to spend Christmas with his family.

"There Is No Hurry"

Secretary General Trygve Lie, after conferring with Cadogan, stressed that "there is no hurry" about the arrival of the U. N. commission in the Holy Land.

He pointed out that as long as the British mandate remains intact, the U. N. commission cannot function in Palestine and therefore should make better use of its time by preparing itself thoroughly for the difficult job through planning and study at Lake Success.

The urge for speed, however, is evident in all relations to the U. N. commission charged with establishing an independent Korea.

Five governments at the moment have not turned in the names of their representatives but one member of the group is already enroute to northern Korea.

message on the Marshall plan which is expected to call for between sixteen and eighteen billion dollars for 16 nations over a four-year period. Passage of the stop-gap bill is certain with indications pointing to only a handful of opposition votes when the final roll call is taken. The big question still to be settled is the amount.

The relief bill, already approved by the senate last Monday, 83 to 6, will be the first order of business when the house convenes at noon after a week-end recess following two days of general debate on the legislation.

Before the house is a measure reported out by the foreign affairs committee authorizing the appropriation of 590 million dollars for the three European nations and China. While the senate approved the full amount in its measure, the house committee added sixty million dollars for China but lopped off sixty-seven million dollars for Europe.

They consider it more advisable that any collapse come as a result of a deadlock on a point of substance.

The American delegation as a whole would prefer to see a break on disagreement over Russia's demand for 10 billion dollars in reparations from Germany.

Efforts are likely to be made by Marshall at today's meeting to maneuver Molotov on the spot on this issue.

It is felt that this might be good politically back home since it would enable the administration to point out that acceptance of Russia's demand will mean the American taxpayer will be financing Germany's reparations payment to the Soviet Union.

newspaper France-Soir, itself a left resistance organ, predicted that strikes and social conflicts in France will be ended within 48 hours.

New Negotiations

France-Soir said that new negotiations between members of the Communist dominated General Confederation of Labor and Labor Minister Daniel Mayer are moving rapidly toward a solution.

Negotiations were resumed after the Confederation earlier had rejected a government offer to end the nation-wide work stoppages of two million workers.

The chief remaining point of disagreement was reported concerned with stabilization of the buying power of workers.

A steady recession of strikes across much of the country was reported meanwhile.

Vote Down Strikes

Workers in seven key cities voted against proposals by the Labor Confederation that they participated in a further two-day "warning strike."

The Paris transport walkout had been planned to coincide with a two-day protest work stoppage by government civil servants.

The city was beset by numerous incidents during the night. In one instance a dozen strikers entered the Irvy station where they tied up the station chief and assistant, seized the station office and cut telephone wires.

During the morning groups of strikers tried to close the doors of three other subway stations. Police intervened and arrested several strikers.

At other points strikers tried to prevent buses from leaving depots. They scattered nails in roadways along bus routes. Some vehicles were halted and the windows of the buses smashed.

No injuries were reported in the incidents.

In a political contest in the Atlantic coast port of Le Havre the Communists found themselves slightly trailing the rightist French People's rally in returns from yesterday's municipal elections.

The rally forces of Gen. Charles De Gaulle obtained 19,065 votes to win 15 municipal council seats. The Communists polled 18,764 votes but also obtained 15 seats.

"Third Force" candidates received 8,776 votes but also obtained 15 seats. "Third Force" candidates received 8,776 votes to secure seven seats.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth L. McConahy, 2607 North

Mercer street, were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the R. L. Boyd funeral home with Dr. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of Highland U. P. church, officiating.

Dr. John G. McConahy III, J. Myron Rice, C. M. Scholz, Dr. William Horner, William and John Conner served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in Oak Park cemetery.

DR. J. P. PRIOLETTI ACCORDED HONOR

evening as toastmaster of the evening.

In succession the special guests were called, and they extended due greetings, including Hon. John F. Haven, who presented salutations from the city; Dr. David L. Perry, president of the Lawrence County Medical society; Andrew Biordi, a representative of Ellwood City.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso extended greetings from Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of St. Vitus church, and also commended Dr. Prioletti for his faithful devotion in things spiritual as well as those physical.

The Hon. Judge John G. Lamoree spoke highly of the honored guest for achieving success and reaping the benefits in this great land of ours, but with a sense of humility and graciousness "It is indeed an honorable place you hold in the medical profession to serve humanity to the best of your ability."

Principal Speaker

Dr. Elmer Hess, president of the Pennsylvania State Medical society of Erie, Pa., was the principal speaker of the evening.

He not only extended the greetings from the State Medical society, but delivered an inspiring but timely message to the people assembled last evening—people who make the country which is America.

"Today we are at crossroads," Dr. Hess warned the group. "Unless we awaken we will surely find our country in terrible chaos. There are evil forces that are trying to tear asunder this great country of ours. Forces such as Communism—and the clenched fists force variety—which is intolerable in the land of America. Communism is outspoken in its favor of the socialization of the medical profession—an insult to a person's freedom of choice."

Dr. Hess continued, "Where today the physician's first thought is to alleviate human suffering, with such an evil force in our midst, there would exist an impediment to the quality of his service; and to the service of an individual. People in this country should realize and be conscious of this danger—for only you can save this country for your children." In closing Dr. Hess urged everyone to take an active part in your community—investigate records of those who are to serve you in any official capacity. And above all, have abounding faith in the physician of your choice. For only then will his knowledge be of any avail.

Dr. Prioletti Responds

Dr. Prioletti responded graciously, touched by the true display of friendship by those he has served. He paid tribute especially to his parents, both now deceased, who sacrificed much in order to assure him of his medical profession; his family and wife; and two of his close friends, Peter Capitola and Charles DeCarbo, the latter two both deceased.

On the sixth anniversary of the infamous attack on Pearl Harbor, Dr. Prioletti reminded all of the blessings of all who reside in America. He expressed deep gratitude to the Wolves club and committee, Paul Failla, A. N. Carbon and Angelo Frediani, the latter who as president of the organization made the presentation of an exquisite onyx desk-clock set, and a pen from the Ellwood City group. A letter from R. J. Schill of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce was read, and many telegrams and floral bouquets were also received. Fr. Inteso closed with benediction.

Many friends and relatives attended from out of town. Yellow and white chrysanthemums were used in the table centerpieces, and the St. Vitus Sodality served the huge gathering efficiently.

Interspersed throughout the evening's program, vocal sections were given by George Peacock, accompanied by E. E. Branstetter at the piano, and a violin solo by Anthony Casero. Salon music was enjoyed throughout the dinner, musicians being Anthony P. Casero, violinist; Joseph F. Replogle, cellist; and E. E. Branstetter, pianist. Community singing was featured prior to the speaker's program, with Andrew Mastriani, as leader. At the conclusion of the evening's program, Dr. and Mrs. Prioletti graciously received their many friends at the reception line at the Cathedral. Dr. Prioletti has served his community with distinction. For his great work here in the city since January 1925, he was granted an Associate Membership degree in the International College of Surgeons in 1946, and he was again honored by the conferring of a Fellowship Degree.

The current trip was Mr. Truman's third visit to this semi-island since assuming the burdens of the presidency. The navy and, more particularly, Admiral Chester Nimitz, former chief of naval operations, first suggested the base as an ideal spot for relaxation.

Mr. Truman has grown very fond of the area and has dubbed it his temporary White House. The residents of Key West see the chief executive only on his entrance and departure from the naval base and no one disturbs him there.

Weather Excellent

The weather was perfect for his present trip, with the temperature constantly hovering around 80 and the sun shining every day. Mr. Truman spent an hour or so each day on the beach, going in swimming three times.

Sunday, the sixth anniversary of Pearl Harbor, Mr. Truman attended church services at the chapel on the submarine base, took a final dip in the ocean and then retired to the seclusion of his white-frame, palm-shaded headquarters.

The president came to Key West immediately after his annual reception for the diplomatic corps and he returns to the White House with a reception for the press scheduled for Tuesday night.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our Mother and Grandmother, Sarah Jane Duncan who passed away one year ago today, December 8.

"God saw that she was weary. So he gently closed her eyes. But she'll awaken on the other side And renew old family ties."

D.A.R. Silver Tea For Schools And Christmas Program Saturday

December program of the Lawrence chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the annual silver guest tea for D.A.R. Approved schools was given Saturday afternoon in the ballroom of The Castleton.

The Christmas story in song was delightfully presented by the girls' ensemble of Benjamin Franklin junior high school under the direction of Miss Esther Gibbons with Mrs. Scott Richards at the piano. In white vestments and holding lighted candles, the presentation was a delightful and effective one and received warm applause from the audience.

Also very interesting was a Christmas play in one act, presented in a new drama form with centralized staging by the Masquers of Westminster College.

Titled "Dust of the Road", the play was enacted by a cast of four students, all members of the play directing class at Westminster. Prof. D. L. Barbe was the director. A brief word of explanation was given preceding the play by Carl Mahl. The ensemble and college players were introduced by Miss Jane Hawkins, of the program committee.

An account and list of the D.A.R. Approved Schools was given by Miss Alma Locke, following which the silver offering was in charge of Mrs. Fred C. Donaldson. It was announced that Lawrence chapter will give a step in the Bell Tower at Valley Forge in memory of Major James C. Blanning, a son of Mrs. E. J. Blanning, a member of Lawrence chapter. The Washington Memorial is a memorial to George Washington and his men who camped at Valley Forge and the Bell Tower being erected by the National Society of the D.A.R. is a unit of the memorial and is set aside as a special tribute to all patriots of the Revolutionary War and of World Wars I and II as those who gave and preserved the heritage of American citizenship.

There are 200 steps in the spiral stairway that leads to the carillon and the bells and tablets marking those honored will be placed on either side of the door leading to the stairway.

Miss Rose Barber read a poem on membership sent by Mrs. M. H. Forney, state chairman of programs. Mrs. Frank Moorehead was introduced as a new member. A number of guests present, including several from other chapters, were introduced.

Tea was served at the close of the program from a table attractively decorated with red and white candles around a centerpiece of evergreens.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. W. Campbell, Mrs. W. G. Eckles, Mrs. G. W. Fowle, Mrs. James T. Ray, Mrs. Fred L. Renz, Miss Anna Stevenson, Mrs. C. S. Royce, and Mrs. W. W. Wallace. Next meeting will be January 3 at 2:30 p. m. in The Castleton.

EVENING SECTION CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Evening Section of Woman's club was entertained in the home of Miss Barbara Schulz, 1005 Butler avenue, on the evening of December 4 for its annual yuletide party with a gift exchange as a feature.

On the program members heard a very interesting talk by Marion Foster Smith of Saxenburg on Christmas customs of other lands. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Robert Moore.

During a short business meeting, a welcome was extended to two new members present, Mrs. Wendell McClurg and Mrs. Rena Jenkins.

Refreshments in keeping with the season were served on trays at the close of the meeting with Mrs. R. V. Carroll, Mrs. William Davis and the Misses Laura Bell, Martha Matthews, Elizabeth Butz, Beatrice Bruce, Gertrude Chapin, Dorothy Depp and Belle Offutt as hostesses.

Next meeting will be January 8 when Mrs. H. L. McCartney, 115 West Garfield avenue, will be hostess.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The spread of middle east riots and demonstrations against the partition of Palestine to the Arabian sea was viewed in authoritative quarters as a menace to British power possibly exceeding that of the disorders in Jerusalem.

For Palestine is held by the British only under a mandate which they are surrendering some time next year.

Aden, on the other hand, has been a vital point of communication on the old established "empire life-line" for many decades. And the British foreign office, the colonial office, the war office and the ever-alert admiralty can hardly be blamed for regarding with deep concern the situation there.

Background In History

This squallid port city on the Red sea has a background in history that is encrusted with importance so far as imperial destinies are concerned.

It first gained notice when the pioneering Romans in a search for empire took it over in the year 24 B. C. The Italy of the middle ages held it without interruption until the Portuguese moved in toward the middle half of the 16th century.

And from then on with the growth of the British empire, it became an integral part of the great chain of bases supporting Britain's high seas fleet.

Must Be Maintained

The fact that the fleet has been "cannibalized" to the extent that a couple of cruisers and perhaps one aircraft carrier is to protect the "home waters" of the British Isles still does not diminish Aden's importance in affairs of the British commonwealth of nations.

Lying at the southern outlet of the Red sea and guardian of communications that still exist between the home islands and the twin dominions of India, Aden is one of the few established stations on the empire route that the British feel they must maintain.

Its own possessions and resources are few indeed.

But its harbor and its facilities for unloading and storage of fuel oil and coal are very great, and it was not without reason that Mussolini's Italy in the days of that the bankrupt imperialistic expansion east coveted Palestine. Britain's officials admit quite readily that the Aden development is far from being a happy one. They have sent into action not only local military forces but additional men landed from naval vessels in the harbor.

The latest chapter in anti-partition demonstrations is one that strikes close to the heart of Britain's existence.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILDREN ARE NOT LIKE SEALS

From now until Christmas ever so many elementary school teachers will devote many hours of regular school time and added hours after school to training children as if they were seals, for a public program, chiefly the PTA.

Because parents attending this program expect the children to be highly trained the children have to rehearse over and over, and the experience may grow rather boring to them and wearing to the teacher. In consequence, many a faithful teacher is pretty well tired out just before Christmas. Moreover, the regular school program may be sadly neglected in the meanwhile.

Certain Children

Furthermore, feeling pressed to produce a "highly finished" program, the teacher is naturally inclined to pick out only certain children who are most talented. What about the other children? How must they feel? What are they doing while the children are rehearsing (during school hours)?

Some wiser teachers courageous enough to ignore the expectations of parents, but thinking only of the best education of all the children, will set up a program (in the grades) which will include all the pupils of a class room, say, and which will be an integral part of the regular school work. It is doubtful, however, whether children under ten or twelve should be prepared by the school for any public evening program. The school should suggest high standards to parents on protection of children.

Unfortunately, some PTAs, whose purpose we like to associate with promoting the welfare of children, often bring pressure on the school to exploit children, especially of the lower elementary grades.

If there must be a program for parents by young school children, the program should aim to present learning in the process as at school rather than learning as a highly finished product. For example, it could be very profitable for the children to work together as a regular group in creative art, in reading, spelling or arithmetic or in some integrated program involving several subjects unrehearsed just if it were to happen at school the next day. (Around Christmas most elementary schools carry on many activities related to the holidays.)

Insight Gained

As a result the parents should gain considerable insight and appreciation of how their children actually learn at school. And the children would feel they were participating in honest interpretation rather than in being puppets for the mere amusement of adults.

Nevertheless, special organizations in the high school, junior high, even in the upper grades, such as music groups or dramatic clubs, whose purpose is to promote artistic and dramatic skills, may gain rich values from putting on certain kinds of public evening programs before parents. My bulletin, "Parent Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had in a sealed envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

State Police Say:

The current inspection period began on November 1 and continues through December and January. All passenger cars and trucks weighing 1000 pounds must be submitted for inspection prior to midnight January 31, 1948. By having your car inspected now you will avoid that last minute rush.

From Me To You

By MESEEEALL

How many of you people stopped to take stock of the past six years? . . . how many of you stopped yesterday to remember the events that took place six years ago. Thousands upon thousands did pause to remember Pearl Harbor, but on the other hand there were probably thousands who have already forgotten. The human mind is a peculiar piece of machinery.

The human mind forgets so easily. Problems of the moment are so important that many times owners of minds completely forget the past, and these same minds seem to be incapable of penetrating into the future. Don't misunderstand the future portion of that statement . . . it's true that no one can tell exactly what the future will bring . . . especially in world-wide affairs, but we can by proper planning make our individual life more pleasant and less troublesome by looking ahead further than the end of our nose.

But let's stop a moment and think seriously about the men and women who in the past six years did a job that was very unpleasant. There are two types of these men and women who served the United States, and whom we consider fortunate. Those who came back without a scratch physically or mentally, and those who lost their life. A much more important group are those who today, over two years since the war ended, are continuing to suffer . . . are we who are healthy, carefree, and pursuing our daily bread thinking about those men and women in the various hospitals? Many of these people will never know again a happy life . . . are you planning to send a remembrance to the veterans hospitals this Christmas?

Why not make a deal with yourself whereby you can remember someone this Christmas and at least three other times during 1948 . . . stop a moment and put yourself in a hospital bed hundreds of miles away from your friends, your loved ones . . . if you do this then maybe, just maybe, you will realize to a small extent what it means to be remembered.

"Little Town Of Bethlehem"

Discarding Of Old Labels

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—There ought to be a large wastepaper basket where we could throw all the out-of-date labels with which we are accustomed to mark our public men and public policies.

A couple of worn-out terms that need to be discarded are isolationist and appeasement. They have had their day and served us well enough back in wartime when it was necessary to over-simplify and propagandize. But now we have much more time to think before we speak, and nothing makes for lazier thinking and speaking than to reach for one of these old labels and glue it to current problems.

Easier To Resolve

But it is easier to resolve to use such a waste basket than to carry out the resolve. I am tempted, for instance, to slap the old isolationist tag on Harold Stassen's proposal to cancel our trade with Russia. We know now that it was our isolation policy toward the Soviets between 1918-1933 that developed the suspicion and hatred which she now holds for us. Indeed, the only time when we seemed to be making any progress toward good will and understanding was when the lend-lease shipments were flowing and when we had a common purpose in the war. To follow Mr. Stassen's advice would be to return to those non-intercourse days and to abandon what small efforts we are now making to win the confidence and understanding of this troublesome neighbor.

Label Does Not Fit

But the label of isolationist no more fits Mr. Stassen than does the label he himself used in discussing this matter. Appeasement is the tag he fastened on our Russian trade. Actually if we could appease her to the extent of finding some common interest in buy-and-sell we would not have done badly. The economists were quick to point out to Mr. Stassen that we are engaged in a normal two-way trade with Russia for normal business reasons. Russia is one of the few countries which put cash on the barrel head for purchases made in America. Russia is one of the few great raw material markets where we can obtain such needed goods as manganese, sulphite and wood pulp. These things, like the heavy machinery we are sending to Russia, have their purposes in wartime. But it would be next to impossible to import or export anything that did not.

Discuss On Merits

Tossing aside both labels, it is possible to discuss the pros and cons of Russian trade on its merits. Regardless of its value to us in dollars and goods, the exchange would seem well worth cultivating for political reasons alone. This, at least, was the idea I brought away with me after visiting the Newport News Shipbuilding Company which is manufacturing electrical machinery for the Dnieperstro dam which the Russians are building.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

There is glad news that an atom pile will turn gold into mercury. This assures us of a constant supply of thermometers for years to come.

When Fort Knox gets too cluttered up we have only to run it through an atom pile and the basement will be hip-high in Fahrenheit.

The newest interesting experiment is an attempt to convert 10 dollar bills into T-bone. So far nothing comes out but the bone.

However we have little to complain about. At the moment there is a good supply of meat at prices no one can afford but later there will be a shortage at higher prices.

But eventually all our difficulties will be solved by one president or the other. Truman or Murray.

They Say

NEW YORK—Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago warns industry it must keep a close watch on atom developments. "If you plan to be in business 25 years from now it would be wise to investigate the atom's possibilities today."

NEW YORK—Lewis H. Brown, chairman of the Johns Manville Corp., expresses opposition to price controls: "A free market works vastly better than letting bureaucrats dream up prices from swivel chairs."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Hawkes (R) N. J., announces his candidacy for re-election reminding voters that in 1942 he stated he was not interested in a long public career: "I had hoped then that the affairs of this nation would be in far better shape by the end of my term than I now find them to be."

WASHINGTON—Rep. Mason (R) Ill., blames "communist" influence for the state department's "hostility" to Spain's Franco government: "What have we got against Franco that doesn't go double for Stalin? . . . Franco hasn't done any harm to other nation."

Bible Thought

Stirring Up Chicago, New York

By PAUL GALLICO

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Comparisons between the two giant metropolises, New York and Chicago, are usually invidious, and by their very invidiousness, whatever that means, tend to stir inhabitants of both cities to wrath. However, a little stirring is said to be good for the circulation, and so how's about it?

New York is supposed to be the center of sophistication when it comes to tying on the feed bag, but the very last word in joints devoted to dishing out vittles at the Quist-ee-que-est on toast, is not located in dear old Gotham, but right in the middle of this fabulous settlement on the shores of Lake Michigan.

Equal To Anything In New York

For atmosphere, luxury of appointments, comfort, service, variety of menu, quality of grub and pure, unadulterated swank, the Penn Room of this town's Hotel Ambassador, is equal to anything New York can offer, and far ahead of most of our high-priced points. Chicagoans can dine in a room modeled after the famous casino in Victorian Bath in England, their groceries are rushed to them by servitors clad in black satin knee-breeches and crimson Tally-ho jackets, their coffee delivered by a Senegambian accounted in blue satin with a feather head-dress a yard high, and their wine by an agile little fellow dressed like high man in the pyramid of a family of Italian tumbler.

Many of the dishes served are sent rushing through the glittering, dimly-lighted salle, impaled on the end of an epee or duelling sword, and burning fiercely, which of course always makes me think of the classic remark made by my colleague, the late Jack Miley, who ordered a portion of scrambled eggs in the famous eatery and added, "And let's see you bring them in on one of those blink-blanked swords."

Careful Not To Irritate

The management is careful not to irritate its midwestern clients by the use of Frenchified terms on the program of groceries, but achieves atmosphere instead by printing the menu in old-fashioned English script in which the letter "S" comes up looking exactly like an "F".

This leads to some charming but only temporary bewilderments as you find you are being urged to partake of Mufthroom foup, or some Firloin fleak on a fizzling platter or a curry of thrimpst, fift or lobfetter. But once you get onto the trick of decoding these, or flick to chicken or pork or duffnet not embarrassed by esses, you get along fine and the boy will ruffle you up a fupper unmatched with the poffible exception of Antoine's in New Orleans.

Eatery Of Super-Refinement

So your skimmer goes off to Chicago for supporting an eatery of super-refinement, good taste and delicacy, but you clap it right back again onto your noggin when you see that the natives on a Saturday night (and every other night) pack the room to the rafters, wearing their street clothes and looking as though they had slept in them.

For all I know, this may even be a super-snobism to which maybe I ought to hoist the kelly again, namely, to maintain an exclusive class joint, complete with dim lights, sparkling nappery, fancy feed, soft music, portrait of the Marquis of Bath on the wall, and uniformed flunkies. A superb blending of swank and luxury, and then come in an old brown suit! This may be Chicago's own way of giving the horse laugh to all gewgaws, foofaraw and foreign hanky-panky, a relic of that brawny Americanism that saw the miners invade the glittering dining room of the Palace Hotel in San Francisco in their hobnailed boots in the old days.

If fo, I falute them.

SITTER FAILURE.

These modern days have modern woes.

There's little, blemish free. Our every joy some care bestows.

With gain a loss may be. Now disappointment strikes a blow

Which leaves young parents glum;

On nights when out they'd planned to go,

The sitter doesn't come.

To keep engagements made, We needn't leave our babes alone;

With them their grandma stayed. But best laid plans are tinged with doubt.

Today young mothers fear The night when they're invited out.

The sitter won't appear.

At last a call upon the phone: "The hour is growing late,

We'd hoped to come, but we're alone.

For us no longer wait." The mother in her loveliest gown,

The dad in tux or tails. At home must calmly settle down:

Because the sitter fails. (Copyright, 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

BATHING AND HEALTH

Bathing of the skin is a pretty good thing. It keeps the body clean and tidy.

It helps to maintain health and morale.

It seems to make most people more comfortable; that means for the bather and his companions too.

People who lived in the places which were ravaged by war could not keep clean. They were uncomfortable.

So called internal bathing is "something else yet".

The inside of the body is built to look after itself. Water is supplied by food and drink. Thirst is a good indication of the amount of water needed.

"Internal bathing" is not needed for healthy people.

"They that are well need not a physician but they who are sick."

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE EVERLASTING FEUD

Palestine is known as "The Promised Land" to the Jew. It is the land promised by the Lord God Almighty to Abraham. First, the Lord said to Abraham:

"Get thee out of thy country and from thy kindred and from thy father's house, into the land that I will show thee; and I will make thee a great nation and I will bless thee and make thy name great and thou shalt be a blessing."

And again when Abraham was ninety years old the Lord established with Abraham a covenant and with Abraham's seed after him for an everlasting covenant, giving unto Abraham and his seed the land of Canaan for an everlasting possession and this promise was made again to Abraham's son Jacob, telling Jacob to be fruitful and multiply; that a nation and a company of nations shall be of Jacob and Kings shall come out of the loins of Jacob. Well, that was all right.

In the meantime, when Abraham was eighty-six years old, he and his wife Sarah were still without children. Abraham became very worried about the situation and Sarah suggested that he take Hagar, a maid servant, for his wife, which Abraham did, and Hagar bore Abraham a son, after which Hagar became very obnoxious and impudent, so much so that Abraham, at the instance of Sarah, turned Hagar over to Sarah to deal with as Sarah wished and Sarah dealt so harshly with her that Hagar fled into the wilderness. There beside a spring of water an angel of the Lord appeared to Hagar and told her that the Lord would multiply her seed "exceedingly that it shall not be numbered" but the angel went on to say further that

Find Young Girl Dead, Companion In Critical Shape

State Game Garden In New Jersey
Finds Couple In Parked
Car, Fumes Victims

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N. J., Dec. 8.—(INS)—Results of an autopsy were disclosed today in the death of a 14-year-old high school sophomore found in a parked car with a 28-year-old companion. The vehicle bore strong fumes of carbon monoxide.

Police said the victim, Joan Shirley Tanghare, was in the car with George Garrison, a neighbor at nearby Mayville. Garrison was taken to a Sea Isle City hospital in critical condition.

The tragedy was discovered when a state game warden was patrolling an isolated section of Middle township in search of illegal hunters.

Police said there were no signs of violence on the girl's body or on Garrison. The latter is unmarried.

Printers Strike At Norristown

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Dec. 8.—(INS)—The Norristown Evening Times Herald appeared on the street in photo-engraved form today after members of local International Typographical Union went on strike.

Pickets ringed the plant as the plant labored to produce the newspaper's normal run, which averages 19,000 copies.

Some 35 members of the local union voted yesterday to refuse a management offer of wage concessions, said by the newspaper to amount to $7.50 a week.

Today's editions carried an editorial stating:

"The Times Herald is not going to take this fight lying down. It has been publishing for a century and a half and it will continue to be published, strike or no strike."

Cpl. James Woods Back In States

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Woods, 202 Berger street, have received telephone calls from their son, James Woods, from San Francisco, stating that he has just arrived in the United States from abroad, where he has been stationed for the past year.

Cpl. Woods, who has been in the service for 18 months, served with the Medical Corps of the Eighth Army. He will receive his discharge before returning to his home here in the city.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

her son Ishmael would be a wild man, that his hand would be against every man's hand and every man's hand would be against him. Ishmael thereby became the progenitor of the race known as the Arabs, and later on through their Messiah, Mohammed, also known as Mohammedans.

Son Is Born

Sarah, later on, did have a son born to her; in fact, two sons, Isaac and Jacob, and that was the beginning of the everlasting feud between the Arab and the Jew.

The Arabs acknowledged Mohammed as their God-given leader and they never forgot the promises to their mother Hagar and have considered themselves just as much entitled to the land of Canaan, or Palestine, as have the Jews. But the Jews repudiated Jesus as their promised leader.

Nearly a thousand years ago the Britons and Franks made pilgrimages to Palestine to drive the Saracens, or the Arabs, or the Mohammedans, whichever you want to call them, out of Palestine. That cost England and France and all who were participating in these expeditions against the Arabs a lot of money; in fact the Arabs were never driven away from the Holy Sepulchre. The net result was principally a great fame attached to King Richard, known as the Lion Hearted,—the war-like leader of one great expedition.

Feud Still Exists

The feud still exists. The Arabs are just as keen to hold onto Palestine as are the Jews to reclaim it. Great Britain is still the goat. She has attempted to rule Palestine and originally had the idea of permitting the Jews to possess and repopulate the land of Canaan. World II has so shaken the military power of Great Britain that she wants now to wash her hands of the whole transaction.

But remember that the Arabs descended from Abraham and believe they have just as much right to the land of Canaan as do the Jews also descended from Abraham, and remember what is stated in the sixteenth chapter of Genesis concerning the character of the Arab. In the twelfth verse of that chapter, the angel of the Lord said of Ishmael and his descendants as follows:

"He will be a wild man; his hand will be against every man, and every man's hand will be against him; and he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren."

And he has been present on every occasion.

Frank Hatton (1846-94) was an American journalist born in Cambridge, O. In 1881 he was appointed assistant postmaster, and three years later postmaster, becoming the youngest cabinet officer since Alexander Hamilton.

Decrease Of One In Relief Load

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Illness or incapacity were cited by the state department of public assistance today as the main causes for unemployment in Pennsylvania.

rather than an absence of job opportunities. During the week ended November 29, a decrease of but one person was noted after county relief boards discontinued general assistance to 926 persons and granted aid to 925 others unable to subsist without public aid. At the close of the week, there were 295,529 persons on relief, including 44,583 on general assistance rolls, according to the department. The balance of the relief load was distributed among aid to dependent children, old age assistance and blind pensions. Expenditures for November were expected to approximate $7,500,000, with the federal government contributing about one-third of the sum.

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Applications for membership in the newly authorized retirement plan for court house employees, elected and appointed were signed by many on Saturday.

The commissioners decided that the deduction from each employee's salary will be three per cent of the salary. The premiums are paid for 1948 but deductions will start in January in order to pay the 1949 premium in advance.

An insurance policy is possible along with the retirement plan, but the employee must pay all of the insurance premiums. In the retirement, the county will pay approximately half.

Plan To Eliminate Women Clerks In Liquor Stores

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The state liquor control board today was preparing to eliminate all women clerks from state stores where they were employed originally on an emergency basis during the war.

Civil service examinations for clerks January 24 will be open only to men, according to the LCB. Approximately 500 men, hired on a provisional basis during the war when civil service was curtailed, also must take examinations.

Chairman Frederick T. Gelder estimated between 200 and 300 women were employed as state liquor store clerks, mostly in the Philadelphia area.

During World War II, the legislature suspended regular civil service appointments and allowed employment only on a provisional basis so members of the armed forces would not be at a disadvantage.

MORAVIA

The Queen's Sewing Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Blanche Snodgrass on Wednesday, Dec. 10, for an all day meeting.

The Willing Workers class of the Moravia church held a regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Benson on Friday evening. Rev. W. C. Sweet led in prayer, followed by Christmas hymns by the group. Plans were made for an oyster supper to be held on New Year's eve.

At the conclusion of the meeting there was an exchange of gifts.

Miss Patty Ann Chambers was pleasantly surprised when a group of youngsters gathered at her home on Thursday evening to help her celebrate her seventh birthday. Games and contests were pastimes of the evening, prizes going to each winner. A delicious lunch was served by her mother.

Mrs. John Chambers, aided by Mrs. Stanley Majacka, Patty Ann received many nice gifts from her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kelly, Jr., of Ellwood City visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Werner, Thursday.

Mrs. W. C. Logan and son Donnie are on the sick list.

Grace Allen spent the week-end with her grandmother, Mrs. C. H. Chambers of West Pittsburg.

U. S. Lawyers Are Framing Charges Against B. Meyers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Government lawyers put the final legal touches today on the perjury indictments they hope to see a federal grand jury return against ex-Maj. Gen. Bennett Meyers later this week.

United States Attorney George Morris Fay said that the grand jury considering charges of perjury and inducing others to commit perjury against the former deputy chief of Air Corps purchasing probably would hear its final witnesses Tuesday or Wednesday.

The jury is expected to decide whether to return the indictments directing the ex-general to stand trial on those charges by the end of the week.

As the grand jury's consideration of the perjury "phase" of the government's case against Meyers drew to a close, the Justice Department was reported to be hard at work on other possible charges against the ex-general, but it was indicated that these may be delayed for some weeks.

These charges may include income tax evasion, war fraud, conspiracy, extortion and bribery. Agents of the FBI and the Treasury Department are still making their investigations of Meyers' wartime financial maneuvers.

Capital Stock Tax Criticism Voiced

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Criticism of the commonwealth's capital stock tax on manufacturers was voiced today at the first Pennsylvania tax institute session in Philadelphia.

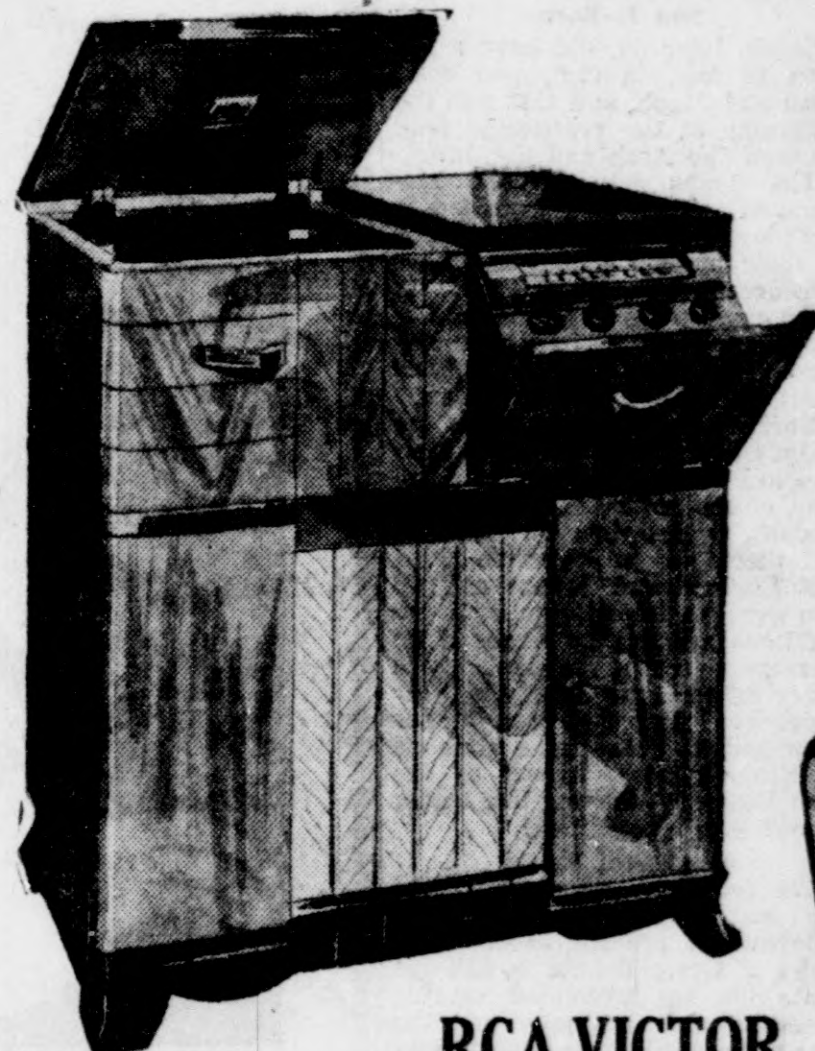

Conferees at the scheduled week-long meeting asserted the tax, one of many levies against industry, tends to drive business out of Pennsylvania.

The institute is sponsored by banking and law associations, schools, life insurance firms and other groups.

A chamber of commerce economist declared recently that three of every ten dollars in Pennsylvania revenue came from direct taxation of corporations.

Music and hula dancing are features of the opening of the Hawaiian legislature.

Many Retired Army And Navy Officers To Face Examination

Re-Examination Of Thousands Likely As Result Of Ex-Maj. Gen. Meyers Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Nearly 29,000 Army and Navy officers retired for physical disability faced possible re-examination today as a result of the sensational case of ex-Maj. Gen. Meyers.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal disclosed in a report to President Truman that the Army-Navy personnel board recommended that the officers be re-examined.

At the same time, a House armed services sub-committee launched an investigation to determine if there had been any abuses of the disability retirement privilege.

The Army-Navy boards' suggestion was transmitted to Secretaries of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Treasury, the latter representing the Coast Guard, for their comment. Forrestal said he would await their recommendations before taking any action.

The board also suggested:
1. Periodic re-examinations in the future for all officers retired on physical grounds.

2. Relation of compensation to the percentage of actual disability instead of the "all or nothing" system which applies at present.

Official figures compiled about mid-November placed the number of disability discharges at 28,395, of which 2,305 were discharges from the regular army.

Rep. Elston (R) Ohio, chairman of a House armed services sub-committee, said questionnaires will be mailed today to all officers retired from disability except those "obviously" disabled by wounds.

Men Who Enlist Now Have Many Advantages For Security And Advancement In Career

Sgt. Charles P. Walsh, of the U. S. Army and Air Forces Recruiting Office here today stated that there are still openings in all branches of the service for local men, and pointed out the fact that there are a number of advantages to those who enlist at this time.

These include education, high rate of pay, travel and security; promotion and retirement with a nice income.

These advantages cannot be fully explained in detail, but anyone interested, is invited to visit the local recruiting office, where they will be further outlined with no obligation to the inquirer. The office is located in Room 202, Post Office Building, or the office can be contacted by phoning 7593.

CARS IN COLLISION

Rev. T. J. Yoder of 218 North Ray street and Rhyne Fabian, 811 Chestnut street, operated autos which were in a collision about three p. m. Sunday on West Washington street extension. Damage amounted to about $100, according to state police.

The minister was driving west and turning left into a private driveway when Rhyne's car, which was following, skidded and struck Rev. Yoder's auto.

MARRIAGE IN RECTORY
"I am to be married quietly in the church rectory and consequently will have very few guests. I have considered having a buffet service at home for about 40 people. What do you suggest serving? My wedding will take place at 2 p. m. Will it be correct to send out engraved announcements after our return from our honeymoon?"

Answer: Serve tea, coffee, party sandwiches, ice cream and wedding cake. You may invite your guests orally but preferably send out informal invitations written by you. Announcements are usually sent on the day of the wedding, after the ceremony has taken place.

Question: My 18-year-old nephew, who seems to be very popular with the girls, is not very polite to his sister. Won't you write a piece on the importance of being polite at home, as well as among strangers?

Answer: So many people complain that they find it more difficult to get along with their families than they do with strangers. Little wonder, when lack of home politeness is so much in evidence and a great contributing factor to much intra-family discord. Many of us feel that courtesy is like finery—something to be put on only on special occasions. Why make a special effort to be gracious to those whom we do not care to impress? If we think Sister Mary's hat unbecoming, we unhesitatingly tell her so. A stranger would be given the benefit of silence. In most families there is at least some one who feels ordained to be each fellow-member's critic. But as a general rule, less criticism and more friendliness would keep family ties from loosening.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Pollock Pupils Have High Stamp Average

In a report just issued by Nannie L. Mitchell, chairman of the New Castle Public Schools Stamps and Bonds Committee, it is learned that students in the Pollock school on Home street purchased an average of $2.12 worth of bonds and stamps during the three month period, September, October and November.

Sales in the participating schools included: Thaddeus Stevens, $641.55 or a per pupil average of $1.15; Lincoln-Garfield, $936.40 or a per pupil average of $1.80; Pollock, $756.25; Mahoning, $1,016.95 or an average of .59 per pupil. Per pupils average is figured on those students participating only.

Total sales in the schools for the first three months of the term were $3,451.15 or a grand total of $871,793.15 since the program began.

Spanish Border To Be Protected

MADRID, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Generalissimo Franco was reliably reported today to have ordered additional Spanish troops to proceed north and protect the frontier between France and Spain should the present French labor strife assume civil war proportions.

The Spanish government takes a serious view of the communist-instigated violence in Italy and France. The Franco regime believes these situations parallel events in Spain which preceded the civil war in 1936.

Unconfirmed reports are freely circulating in Madrid that a loan or credit may be forthcoming from the United States to strengthen Spain's economy and fortifications.

The University of Havana, Cuba, was founded in 1728. Until the American occupation of Havana the university was housed in the old convent of Santo Domingo. Better quarters were provided in 1900 by the American Military government.

More twins and triplets were born in the United States during 1935 than in any year before, according to records of hospitals throughout the country.

The flight of the goshawk is very rapid. It follows its prey in a straight line, not rising in the air to descend upon it, like the falcons. When baffled by the object of pursuit, it enters a wood and hides itself in some covert, and will perch on a bough and await its reappearance with wonderful patience for many hours.

W. C. T. U. AND L. T. L.

Highland W. C. T. U. had an interesting meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ellwood Gilbert, 220 Winter avenue. The downstairs rooms of the Gilbert home were beautifully decorated in Christmas colors. The program, planned by Mrs. I. A. Balph, was opened with Mrs. F. J. Fox reading the poem, "The Star".

Mrs. R. McGeorge conducted the devotional period which included some Christmas customs and the Christmas story. Carol singing was also enjoyed. Mrs. Balph who discussed "Safe-guarding the Home and Nation", read two poems, "Protecting the Devastation of Christmas" and "So Long As There Are Homes". Miss Jayne Walker pleased with her reading of

O. Henry's story "Gift of the Magi". Mrs. Howard Gardner stressed the importance of writing personal letters to our senators, urging support of the Capper Bill, just as it is written with no revisions. Members are also asked to write to editors, protesting the current series of bee: advertising in the "American Home Series", being run in several popular magazines.

Mrs. Fox announced that Rev. Robert W. McMillan, pastor of the College Hill Reformed Presbyterian church, Beaver Falls, will speak on the theme "The Sign of Moderate Drinking" at the Loyalty Day luncheon, Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 14, at 12:30 o'clock in Highland U. P. church.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostesses with Mrs. J. B. Offutt as Mrs. Samuel Mooney, of the will entertain Friday afternoon, January 2, at 2 o'clock, when Mrs. Thomas Nesbitt will be co-hostess.

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE

ON THE PUBLIC SQUARE

Early Mailing Effort Is Urged On Community

Postmaster Wm. R. Hanna has requested public cooperation in handling the heavy Christmas mailing load. He asked that people begin mailing their Christmas cards and packages at once, and that they space out their mailings over several days so that mail will arrive at the post office in a steady stream, instead of in huge bunches. During normal periods, cancellations at the post office average 25,000 pieces of mail per day. They are now averaging 80,000 per day, and during the peak of the Christmas season they reach 200,000 per day.

Mail At Once

"Many people have their Christmas lists almost complete, but are delaying until they can fill in just a few missing addresses," the Postmaster said. "It would help us a great deal if next week these people would mail all the cards and gifts they have ready or can get ready."

Full and correct addresses are essential, and use of zone numbers helps greatly in sorting the mail for delivery, he said. Packages must be wrapped securely with strong paper and heavy twine, and it's a good idea to repeat the address inside the outer wrappings. Christmas cards should be tied in bundles, with all envelopes facing the same way and the stamps in the same corner.

The Postmaster asked that all Christmas cards and packages for out-of-state delivery be in the mails by December 10, and that local cards be mailed by December 15 to ensure delivery before Christmas.

Fire Threatens Township Home

Damage Of Around $500 Results From Blaze On Cascade Boulevard Saturday Evening

Shenango Township firemen saved the home of Charles McClimans, of Cascade Boulevard, from destruction Saturday evening, at 6:45 o'clock when fire which is believed to have started from a defective chimney, burned up through the roof of the home. Mr. and Mrs. McClimans were just moving into the house.

The fire started between the ceiling and roof in the attic, and it was necessary to chop down through the roof to get at the blaze.

Damage of a round $500 was done, Fire Chief Ed. Dean estimated.

Band Expresses Thanks For Trip

Senior High School Band Thanks Citizens For Fine Trip To Bethlehem

December 4, 1947

To the People of New Castle:

After a truly enjoyable trip across the state and back we should like to express our deep appreciation to the many contributors to the "On-to-Bethlehem" fund. Had it not been for all of you the band would not have had the opportunity to visit the friendly city of Bethlehem and to be a part of the football festivities there. Each dollar contributed was a solid investment in a happy holiday. We hope that we lived up to all expectations as the New Castle Band and we intend to continue to do our best.

We would like to thank especially Mr. Raney, Mr. Hanlon, and Mr. Richards who left nothing undone so far as the comfort of the band was concerned. Also deserving of thanks are Miss Dodson and Miss Wilson who were ever ready to help on the trip. Seldom mentioned but very helpful in shaping the band for performance this fall were Rudy Herman, Jim Foster, Ed Gilkey, Andy Ross and Alfred Barnes. Saving the best for the last we want to thank Joseph Replege for pulling the band through a tough season and putting it on top again. Save him your largest pat on the back.

Old Camp Reynolds Site Proposed For New Memorial Home

Since the successful completion of the half million dollar drive for a new Ida M. Cribbs Memorial Home for aged Methodists, a search for a site has been on. It is possible that the present site in Conneautville, Pa., will be abandoned and already a number of sites have been inspected.

It has been suggested that the part of the old Camp Reynolds site near Greenville be taken over. It is argued that here are many acres of well developed property.

with streets laid out, water and sewer lines in, and the Pennsylvania Railroad running nearby.

Some sites in and near Meadville have been inspected but thus far the committee in charge of site locations has made no choice.

To Start Campaign
Meanwhile, Co-Chairmen Robert H. Cunningham and H. L. Gordon of the advance gifts division have announced that solicitation of their prospects will get under way on Friday. This will be the first phase of actual solicitation.

A booklet telling the campaign story will go in the mail to all advance gifts prospects this week. A schedule of memorials available in the proposed new wing of the hospital is included in the booklet.

Gifts to the campaign are deductible for federal income tax purposes, and the pledge period provides for payment of subscriptions over 25 months, or three tax years.

Stocks-Bonds Welcomed
Stocks and bonds are welcome as contributions to the expansion fund, according to the advance gifts leaders, and all government bonds with the exception of Series E war bonds are also acceptable.

Series E bonds, they explained, may not be owned by a corporation. However, the individual owner may cash them and purchase Series F or G bonds in the name of the hospital.

Several people have already indicated their desire to give bonds, they said, thereby "doing two good turns, one for the government and one for the hospital."

Senator Ellender Offers Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Sen. Ellender (D) La., proposed that Marshall plan aid European nations in transplanting some of their people to their colonies.

The Louisiana Democrat said he would favor giving European nations surplus war-built cargo vessels to help them build up their colonies in North Africa and elsewhere as sources of supplies of food and raw materials.

Ellender announced that he voted for stop-gap aid "reluctantly, and as a Red Cross measure" but that he will oppose the Marshall plan in its present form.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

RELIGIOUS "EDUCATION" PROGRAM

To the General Public:

For several years it has been evident that there is a vast amount of religious illiteracy in our country. Those in position to know are appalled by the extent of this condition. Also it is not confined to any single group. Protestant, Catholic and Jewish people are about equally uninformed. This statement is not made carelessly but on a basis of wide and careful survey of many hundreds of young men and women.

In his farewell address George Washington declared that morality without religion could not long prevail. We believe he was correct in this judgment.

Religious-minded people are anxious to see this condition remedied and with that in view have organized what is called "week-day religious education" programs in many areas, particularly in the town and city schools.

Last summer the Council of Churches of New Castle formed a committee to initiate this program through our city schools.

It is not intended to use city property or to ask for any service from the city that would call for city funds. It is necessary, however, to request the schools to grant students one hour per week for participation in this program. With this in mind the Committee has been working with the city school board to develop a program that will not disrupt in any serious way the existing school program.

The present plan has all participating students of fourth and fifth grades go one hour one day each week to the nearest church for instruction by a well prepared, experienced teacher. The courses taught will not be denominational nor will there be any attempt made to change existing church interest or relationship.

In a canvass made of two of our city schools, five sixths of the homes approached expressed approval of the plan.

It is earnestly hoped that the program under consideration will meet with the approval and support of our entire community, in as much as it is based upon a universal need.

Parents who wish more complete information or who would desire to inspect the courses to be offered are invited to call on the telephone 2760 New Castle or call personally on any member of the Committee.

We are a great community with many delightful and helpful advantages. It is our confidence that this program will make ours a still better community by giving added essential religious training to our young people. It is the hope of this committee that this program will appeal to our entire community of all religious faiths.

This letter is presented by order of the Committee whose names are attached, any one of whom will gladly answer questions.

Texas Woman Wins 'Miss Hush' Contest

FT. WORTH, Tex., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Ruth Annette Subbie, 45-year-old housewife and mother, is today well on her way to enjoying a jackpot of prizes amounting to $20,000, which culminated in her naming the "Miss Hush of 1947" following weeks of speculation by thousands throughout the nation.

Mrs. Subbie wept Saturday evening when "the call" from Ralph Edwards, master-of-ceremonies on the "Truth or Consequences" quiz program, jangled her telephone, and as she sobbed the correct answer to the question, "Who is Miss Hush?"

Oh yes, and Miss Hush? She is Martha Graham, dancer and former Pittsburgh resident.

Pamphlet Laws Not Yet Printed

Legislature Adjourned On June 14 But Laws Are Yet To Be Published

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—The General Assembly was adjourned sine die June 14 but the pamphlet laws have yet to be printed. Deputy Secretary of State Gene Smith has called in extra proof readers to get the material to printers before an anticipated strike at Philadelphia among employees to the successful bidder.
Employees of the General Assembly responsible for getting the work into shape for printing are paid on a per diem basis and as long as the work lasts their legislative salaries continue. Smith hopes to put the bid for printing pamphlet laws out on an individual contract the next time. Such a move, he believes, would allow fore print-eries to enter bids. The way the contract is written now, it includes much more than the state department's pamphlet law needs.

The state elections bureau registration report for 1947 disclosed that Republican organizations dominated politics in all of the 67 counties except 15. They were Allegheny, Bedford, Berks, Cambria, Columbia, Elk, Fayette, Fulton,
Green, Lackawanna, Monroe, Northampton, Washington, Westmoreland and York. The total enrollment of both major parties plus non-partisans and other parties was pegged at 4,559,941 by the bureau compared with 4,653,094 in 1946 when Pennsylvanians elected among other officers, a U. S. senator and a governor. The only statewide post at stake this year was a superior court judgeship, won by Luzerne Judge John S.
Fine on Nanticoke.

The Democratic state chairmanship has been or will be offered to Sen. Joseph M. Barr of Pittsburgh, who doesn't want the job and will refuse it. The nominal party leadership then will be conferred on former Sen. John S. Rice of Gettysburg, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor during the 1946 election. Such was the prediction of a party member close to the party boss, Pittsburgh's Mayor David L. Lawrence.
Barr has long been Lawrence's right hand man. Col. Philip Mathews of Carlisle, party financier, has fallen from first to third place among candidates discussed by speculators on the outer fringe.
The party will reorganize in the spring.

An increasing number of local governments has announced plans to impose new taxes under a new broad revenue raising law recently upheld by the supreme court. Most aimed at wage, mercantile and property levies but some communities in mining regions planned taxes on coal. Litigation before the court involved a coal tax and an effort has been made to reopen argument on grounds that the levy would duplicate taxation in that a state license fee was charged for strip mining privileges. A spokesman of the state justice department said it would be a rare occasion if the high court granted reargument.

The department of internal affairs reported nearly 25 per cent of bills presented to the General Assembly were related to county government pointing to "the fact that local government has become a more vital issue. Constant study to keep abreast of local needs was recommended.

Cracking Down On Violators Of State Tax Law

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—
The Revenue Department today was cracking down on alleged violators of the six-months-old soft drinks tax law.

The arrest of a "bootleg" syrup manufacturer and seizure of beverage dispensing machines operated by a bottling firm without necessary permits were disclosed
by the soft drinks tax division.

Department investigators arrested Tad McLaughlin, a McCon-nellsburg druggist, and seized five gallons of untaxed simple syrup which he had made, according to Deputy Secretary W. H. Beachy.

The arrest December 3 was the first of its kind. McLaughlin was fined $100 by Justice of the Peace
W. H. Greathead, of McConnellsburg, Beachy said.

McLaughlin reportedly had been manufacturing approximately 10 gallons of syrup for soft drinks
a month, according to Examiner Daniel S. Adams.

In a drive to halt operations of retail outlets lacking permits, the department impounded coin-operated drug dispensing machines operated by the Keystone Coca Cola Bottling Company in seven Luzerne and Lackawanna county establishments, including two high schools, it was learned. The firm has plans in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Hazleton.

WET SHOES

Shoes often suffer from wet weather. Once soaked, they may never look as well or fit as comfortably unless they are properly dried and cared for afterward.

Take off wet shoes as soon as possible as wearing them may pull them out of shape and cause breaks or other damage. Stuff shoes with soft paper or absorbent cloth to take up moisture rather than using tension shoe trees for they may stretch the leather out of shape, also. With a soft cloth, pat the shoes rather than rubbing them, for rubbing will roughen wet leather. When the inside moisture is absorbed,
remove the stuffing and let shoes
dry slowly away from heat. Fast drying with heat often makes leather shrink, harden and crack.

As shoes dry, clean with saddle soap. To keep them soft and pliable, rub sulfonated castor oil on them, using your hands and only as much oil as the leather will absorb. When shoes are soft and dry, polish with any good paste or cream. Two coats of polish may be needed to bring back the fresh new look to the leather.

Work or play shoes that do not need polishing may be softened and made to resist moisture by rubbing with beeswax, tallow, wool grease or petroleum jelly. Well-oiled shoes not only turn off moisture but also last longer. Outdoor work shoes or children's shoes which have hardened after getting wet may be softened by rubbing with warm—not hot—neat's foot oil, castor oil or tallow. To make leather soles moisture-resistant, set shoes in a pan of just enough warm oil to cover the soles and let stand about 15 minutes. CAU-TION: Never let oil get on rubber heels or soles because it rots rubber.

Suede shoes should be thoroughly dry before they are brushed or rubbed. Use a rubber sponge or stiff brush—never a wire brush
because it may damage soft suede.
After brushing, spread on liquid suede dressing in one direction then brush in opposite direction to lift the nap, when dressing is dry.
If further treatment is needed to restore the appearance of suede shoes, have them "rebuffed" or "vaporized" at a shoe repair shop.

Helpful as these treatments are for wet shoes, prevention in the form of rubbers or overshoes is easier and better. Almost any handbag has room enough for a pair of toe rubbers for unexpected showers. In season the snow and slush, however, galoshes or boots are needed to save shoes. It is economical to take care of shoes.

Rural Highways Fatalities Drop

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—
Traffic fatalities on rural highways in Pennsylvania in 11 months of this year showed a drop of 110 over the corresponding period of 1946, it was reported today by state police headquarters.
By the end of November, 783
persons were killed in motor accidents on rural roads in contrast to 893 in the similar period last year, state police said.
The month of November itself showed 78 deaths, a decline of 17 over November 1946.

Urge Motor License Applicants Prepare For Examinations

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—(INS)—
Applicants for motor operators licenses were urged today by State police to "make better preparation" before appearing at testing stations for examinations.

Reports for 10 months of 1947
showed that of 217,746 examinations conducted, 59,352 or more than 27 per cent resulted in failure.
"It appears that many applicants do not understand that they must prepare themselves before reporting for examination," said Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm. "The tests are uniform throughout the state and the applicant must be well trained and familiar with the provisions of the vehicle code regardless of where he reports for examination."

Urges Legislation To Halt Strikes
In Atomic Plants

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Sen. Edward V. Robertson (R) Wyo., called for enactment of "whatever legislation may be necessary" to safeguard the nation's atomic program for work stoppages.

The senate armed services committee member said he hoped that "in the spirit of Americanism" the CIO chemical workers at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic plant will not carry out their strike threat, and added that congress should enact safeguards against such walkouts. At the same time, Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Ia., chairman of the joint congressional atomic committee, said he expected a "full report" soon—perhaps today—from the atomic commission on the dispute between the CIO workers and the government contractor that employs them, the Union Carbide and Carbon company.

Legislation Seen

Robertson said that it might be possible to pass legislation bringing the employees of government contractors on vital atomic projects under the same ban against strikes as workers directly by the government. He said:

"It is absolutely necessary that no strikes be permitted in these plants where the safety of the nation is at stake."

Hickenlooper said that he believes that "there are means" for preventing the strike, but he did not disclose their nature.

One atomic committee member privately brushed aside the strike threats and predicted that the dispute will be settled by negotiation. Hickenlooper explained that the CIO contract with Union Carbide expires Tuesday and that an Oak Ridge union leader has issued a "no contract, no work" warning.

Can Take Over Plant

A National Labor Relations Board official said that President Truman has power to take over the plant for direct government operation on an emergency basis and that the strike then could be halted by injunction.

Warren Morgan, a Washington representative of the CIO union, said that the atomic energy commission refused to intervene in the dispute, which he said concerns wages, sick leave and grievance procedure, on the ground that the controversy must be settled by Union Carbide.

Morgan asserted that Union Carbide is ready to accept a union arbitration proposal if the atomic commission gives its approval. The CIO union was certified by the National Labor Relations Board as bargaining agent for Oak Ridge chemical workers after a two-to-one victory in an election.

The Oak Ridge plant is engaged in one of the initial steps in production of fissionable material for atom bombs and radioactive isotopes for research and medical treatment.

Army Officers May Sprout New Tails

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Dress uniforms of officers of the armed services are going to sprout tails.

This martial sartorial note was sounded today by a star-studded joint board set up to survey the situation after President Truman complained that U.S. officers were "also rans" in the haberdashery sweepstakes.

It was learned that the board has recommended to defense Secretary Forrestal a design for a full-dress uniform for Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps brass which is a military adaptation of the civilian taitcoat.

CANONSBURG HUNTER KILLS RARE COYOTE

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—(INS)—That was no "wolf" that was a coyote, Kenneth Richardson, of Canonsburg, shot in Elk County, according to the Carnegie Museum. Richardson and his friends thought he had bagged a wolf while deer hunting, and he took it to the museum to make sure. The curator of mammalogy identified the animal as the first coyote taken from Pennsylvania since 1907 and a "particularly fine specimen". Richardson left the coyote at the museum to be studied.

East Brook FFA Has Good Record

Agriculture Class At Hickory High School Scores High In Record Competition

In a contest on records, kept by the various Future Farmers of America groups in Lawrence, Beaver, and Butler counties, which were judged at a meeting held in the office of James C. Fink, vocational agriculture supervisor of the three counties, the East Brook F.F.A. Chapter stood far ahead of the other groups in the county in their work during the past year.

The project books kept by the youths were reviewed by the agriculture teachers of the three counties, points being awarded on a basis of excellent, good, and fair. There were 150 projects in which the youths of the three counties took part, among the 14 F.F.A. clubs.

East Brook had a score of 86 points, with Slippery Rock second with 33 points, and Winfield Township, of Butler county, third with 33 points.

Those who had scores of excellent and good will have their entries sent to Penn State College for a state-wide contest during the week of December 15, when gold, silver, and bronze medals will be given for the highest scores by individuals, and a banner or plaque to the Chapter.

Those from East Brook who had a score of excellent, were: Ivand Patterson, gardening; Bob Hawthorne, beef cattle; Charles Reiber, field corn and dairy records; Gilbert Wimer, small grains; Albert Cummins, poultry records; Arthur Rote, fat hogs; and Harold McConnell, sow and litter.

Jobless Waitress Is Held In Armed Holdup, Auto Theft

Philadelphia Engineer Holdup Victim Forced To Rob Own Home, Woman Arrested

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—(INS)—A 22-year-old jobless waitress was held today as the "gun moll" who kidnaped a Philadelphia engineer and stole his car after forcing him to loot his own home.

Police said the suspect, Mrs. Joyce Brown, admitted the charges made by Clement B. Hoskins, 26, of suburban Gladwyne. She was slated for holdup and robbery at gunpoint and fire arms violations. Hoskins, employed by the American Viscose Co., said an attractive brunette begged a ride with him in central Philadelphia and then produced a gun. The engineer was forced to drive to his home. He said the girl kept him covered with the gun for two hours while he loaded radios, silverware, jewelry, his wife's clothing and other choice items into his car.

Police Arrest Woman
Hoskins telephoned police after the woman drove off. Mrs. Brown was arrested later at the home of her estranged husband, who was taking care of her 14-month-old daughter. Detectives said Hoskins' automobile was parked outside the place.

Police asserted the girl was arrested only last Tuesday and released in $1,000 bail for stealing a taxicab after asking the driver to buy her a sandwich in a restaurant.

Young Negro Dies In Electric Chair At Rockview Today

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 8.—(INS)—William M. Chavis, 22-year-old Philadelphia pinboy, died today in the state's electric chair at Rockview penitentiary for the robbery-slaying of a Philadelphia war veteran.

Chavis chatted with prison officials shortly before his execution about the Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott fight. He said he was proud of the showing that Walcott made against the champion.

The Negro bowling alley employee made no final statement and closed his eyes tightly after being strapped in the chair. He had written letters Saturday to a girl and to his aunt, who claimed the body.

Guilty Of Murder
Chavis' death came after three respites granted in a last-ditch legal fight by his attorneys. A prison official said he seemed resigned to his fate as the end approached.

He was arrested on June 12, 1946, one month after the victim, Francis Edhard, Jr., 24, a University of Pennsylvania student, was clubbed with a lead pipe and robbed of $25 in the Germantown section of Philadelphia.
Chavis was found guilty of first degree murder by a mixed jury on June 28, 1946. His last respite was granted last Nov. 21 by Gov. James H. Duff.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Sutherland Crew Assured At Least Play-Off For Eastern Division Laurels

A garrison finish in both sections of the National Football League was assured today as a result of Sunday's unexpected results.

Chicago's Cardinals, coming out of a slump, caused most of the excitement by staging a furious last-period offensive to swamp the Philadelphia Eagles, 45 to 21.

This feat resulted in a wide-open scramble in both divisions of the league. The Cards jumped into a first-place tie in the

To Alter WPIAL Gardner System

The Gardner point system of the WPIAL, issue of a hot controversy this year, will come in for important changes, it was decided at the business meeting in Pittsburgh, Saturday.

The major change outlined is that each undefeated football team at the end of its season be permitted to name the opponents in their class upon which to arrive at their point total. Five shall be the divisor regardless of the class foes met.

It is also planned to make the Saturday following Armistice Day the official end of the season, and that each undefeated and untied team in divisional play be awarded a plaque. The class champion will receive a loop trophy.

Junior Church League Results

Saturday evening at the Y six more Junior Church League games were played. The results were as follows: First Presby 33, St. George 26; S. S. Alliance 28; First Baptist 24; Croton 33; First Methodist 29; Trinity 25; Epworth 10; First U. P. 37; Third U. P. 37, and the finale of the evening went to the First Christian by a forfeit over St. Paul.

Outstanding stars of the evening were Reiber, Garder, Snow, and Wolford.

K. Pulaskis Top Butler 48 To 44 At Arena Sunday

City And County Champions Last Year Open With Flashy Victory, Vets Down Eagles

Flashing the same form that made them city and county champions last year, and winners of three out-of-town tournaments, the K. Pulaskis "Big Five" opened the 1947-48 campaign at the spacious Arena court Sunday by defeating the fast Butler BISC team 48 to 44, sparked by brilliant playing on the part of Joe Cooper, Stan Waskowski and "Flash" Wenda.

The Coach Al Gonet flippers led the entire way, 16 to 11, 30 to 19, and 44 to 37 at the quarters. The Butler team paced by Brown, Cantnera and Paffrath tried hard to overcome the Pulaskis, but to no avail.

portunity times. Winners of 52 games, last year the K.P. team looks destined for an even greater record this year. In the opening game the Oaklanders displayed rare form and shooting ability. Cooper with 14 points led the scoring parade, followed by Waskowski and Wenda, with nine and eight respectively.

Coach Gonet used eleven men, in the battle. Young Chuck Rea, former New Castle High star, sparked the K.P. team with four points, playing his usual aggressive game, as he enjoyed his first semi-pro experience.

The K.P. team is going to bear watching this year, as they are out to grab the Lawrence county title again.

Vets Down Eagles
The first game Sunday was a good one in the newly created City-County league, the VFW team defeating the New Castle Eagles Club, 38 to 31, this was the first start in the loop for the Bill Patton coached Eagles and they were impressive.

At the half the Eagles led 21 to 19. The Vets coached by Teddy Galanski got hot in the second half, led by Jack Bagder, Lloyd Spears and Hartshorn. Sparking the Eagles was the work of "Hick Pockets" Kelly and Andy Fair. The fans enjoyed both games.

Walcott In Futile Title Appeal Today

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—Jersey Joe Walcott, storm center of fistiana's greatest controversy, will go to bat with one strike on him today when he asks the New York State Athletic Commission to give him Joe Louis's heavyweight title.

The one strike on the cinderella man who now finds himself somewhat of a national figure instead of a relief worker trying to support six kids, is asking for a miracle.

The Camden, N. J. veteran wants the commission to reverse the split and much-criticized decision given Louis in their 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night, when he twice had the Brown Bomber on the deck but lost the "duke."

Chances Remote
Although Jersey Joe's fight for recognition as world's champion has received enthusiastic support from many sources including high places, the chance of a reversal was considered remote.

The one strike on Walcott is that Chairman Eddie Egan of the boxing commission indicated which way the wind was blowing when he said:

"There is no precedent for a change of decision upon review. The judges were competent men and they used their best judgment."

Walcott's claim is based on the technicality that Judge Frank Forbes voted his decision to Louis on a ballot that gave eight rounds to Louis and six to Walcott with one even, but carried the subsidiary citation of 12 points for Walcott and only nine points for Louis.

Walcott and his manager, Joe Webster, will argue that if the points are decisive under the Egan scoring system prevailing in New York state, then Forbes's vote should have gone to Walcott.

It will be contended that this vote, with Referee Ruby Goldstein's ballot of seven to six for Walcott with two rounds even, should have earned the title for Walcott, a 1 to 15 underdog. The other judge, Marty Monroe, gave nine rounds to Louis and six to Walcott.

TWO GAMES IN LEAGUE TONIGHT

First Place In League At Stake As Besemer Battles Shenango 'Y'

Two more games will be played tonight in the hot City-County league at the Arena floor, the first game at 7:30 o'clock will find the East Brook Boosters playing the Johnson Bronze, and the 9 o'clock game will have the Besemer Legion battling the Shenango "Y" for the leadership.

Both Besemer and the Shenango "Y" have won two and lost none to date, with good ball clubs. The Bronze hopes to enter the win column for the first time after suffering two defeats in a row. The Boosters with one and one hope to climb tonight. The admission to these games is 35 cents for everybody. Interest is mounting in the league.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

CHARLIE FUSARI, Newark, N. J., accredited as the best left-hooker since the days of Charlie White, the former lightweight of Chicago, will box Sammy Adragna, fast-moving welterweight of Carnegie tonight in Pittsburgh. . . A lot of experts were fooled in predicting Jersey Joe Walcott would fall easy prey to Joe Louis, Friday night. They failed to recall that when Jimmy Bivins was good, and he was rated next to Louis, Jersey Joe went to Cleveland and knocked him flatter than a pancake. . . Fact that Frankie Moran has been matched to box in the Youngstown semi-final December 18, shows that the fans and promoters like a puncher. If Frankie could only move faster he would cause a lot of trouble for better boys than he has been boxing. . . Sharon Saddle club has turned over to the Shenango Valley Junior Baseball league $215 as their share of the first annual horseshow. . . A. A. Baldwin of White Jost, Va., has bought for the Dunderidge farm, Jeep, 5-year-old horse from the C. V. Whitney stable.

Tom Jones Sparks Titans In Opening Game Saturday Before Capacity Crowd

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 8.—Westminster's Titan basketball team opened its campaign looking to the Tri-State championship Saturday night at the Westminster gym, by thumping the Slippery Rock State Teachers College 56 to 36, before a capacity crowd.

Coach Grover Washabaugh started his 12th year at the Titan helm watching his charges virtually toy with the Rockets in every period, leading 11 to 5, 20 to 11, and 34-16 at the periods. The Titans were never extended at any time. The Titans have a world of class this year, it being very evident.

Tom Jones Stars
Leading the scoring parade as the Blue and Whites rang up 20 field goals was Tom Jones, veteran guard, who had 12 of the points, with Heddlester Wagner and McIlhinney supplying the majority of the other points. Coach Washabaugh used 13 players in the game, and Slippery Rock used 13 also.

The Rockets were never in the game very far, as the Titans took things easy and coasted in for their first win of the collegiate season. Westminster will play at Carnegie Tech this coming Saturday and hope to ring up their second Tri-State win. The next home game is with Millersville Teachers at New Wilmington on Monday December 15th.

BISONS WHIP HERSHEY BEARS

HERSHEY, Pa., Dec. 8.—(INS)—The Buffalo Bisons overpowered the Hershey Bears in the final period to win 4-3 Saturday night in the sports arena in an American Hockey league tilt witnessed by approximately 7,600 spectators.

The Bears were leading 3-1 at the middle of the last stanza when Center Len Halderson rifled one goal home and Joe Bell, the Bisons' high scorer, accounted for two more. Halderson tallied for Buffalo in the opening period.

Elks Impressive
It was runaway for the Elks in the third and fourth periods, the locals leading 40 to 22 the third period and dumped in 14 more the final period. Aiding the Elks in their great triumph was Bob Pitzer with eight points, Tom Carey with seven and Donnie Waters and Vinnie Kelly with six each.

Best for the Butler Moose were: Pucci with 17 points and Kias with nine. In foul shooting the Elks did better than last week, getting 18 out of 33 tries through the hoops, with Butler making 14 out of 27.

Have Capable Reserves
The Elks will steadily improve now that they have broken the ice in the victory column. The team played well together and Coach Morrison used his subs at the proper moments. The Elks are blessed with ten or twelve of the city's finest hardwood artists.

Young Waters looked particularly good when used in the game, the former high school star is going to give the Elks the needed spark, Coach Morrison believes.

In the thriller-diller preliminary game the Coach "Pat" Patterson Elks Reserves were edged by the Shenango Pottery team coached by "Bus" Davis, 33 to 32, in the final five seconds on a foul, as the crowd went wild.

Girl Bowlers Suffer Defeat

New Castle Elliott Steelers, of the Girls tri-county duckpin league, suffered a slight defeat, last week end in their match with the Beaver Falls team.

The local girls won two out of three games, placing them in third position. The Monaca and Ambridge teams have tied for first place.

Captain Rose Mooney, is confident, however, of their next victory, slated this coming Friday in the Castle Alley—their opponent being the Midland, Pa. team.

Frankie Frisch never played in the minor leagues, going directly to the Giants from Fordham University.

Canton Cushites Here Wednesday

Famous Clowning Cushites Will Play Philadelphia Giants At Arena Floor

Those razzle-dazzle Canton Cushites will be back in New Castle Wednesday evening playing the powerful Philadelphia Giants at the Arena floor at 9 o'clock, following a city-county league game in which the Johnson Bronze plays the Eagles club at 7:30 o'clock.

The Philadelphia team will feature the great Bill "Rookie" Brown, 6 foot 6 inch center, who is one of the cleverest basketball stars in the nation. The Giants have a fine team as shown by their 1946-47 record of 41 wins in 47 starts.

On Winning Streak
The Canton Cushites, winners of their first two starts here over the Oklahoma Indians and Detroit Clowns, are out to make it three in a row on the local wooden court. CHICAGO AGOG OVER PRO RACE

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—It can happen here.

Chicago Bears vs. Chicago Cards for the Western Division title of the National Football league, the game to be played at Wrigley field, Sunday, December 14.

Chicago is stark pro-football crazy today, and on the brink of unheard-of, unprecedented civil warfare.

The Cards should have lost to the Philadelphia Eagles in Philadelphia yesterday, and the Bears should have beaten the Los Angeles Rams in Chicago.

And that, simply, would have meant another bow to tradition; a Cardinals failure, a Bears success; the Bears' ninth Western Division championship; and the Cardinals' umpteenth seat at the leftover table.

Club 15

With Bob Crosby as your host and singing star each weekday, CLUB 15 brings you a fast-paced 15 minutes of songs and humor, with top radio talent for your pleasure. You'll hear Margaret Whiting and the Modernaires on CLUB 15, as well, Bob Crosby skillfully knits together the program's musical talents every Monday through Friday.
